TELLS DIRECTORS TO LET THE PUBLIC KNOW THEIR NEEDS

Dr. Chas. Boehm Addresses Group of School Directors

MEET IN DOYLESTOWN

"It is Too Late To Tell Facts When Bonds Are Needed"

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 26.—"Too many school boards do not let their taxpayers know what they are doing. It is too late to tell them what you need if you wait for a bond issue," Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of Bucks County public schools, told 40 newly-elected school directors at a meeting Wednesday evening.

The meeting was the first of two orientation assemblies. "Never keep your school problems to yourselves," was the advice of Dr. Boehm.

Speaking to 40 men and women, representing all sections of the county, County Superintendent Boehm said: "The newer type school board feels obligated to the public as a whole."

Dr. Boehm, who said the average school board session should last from two to two and one-quarter hours, warned them that the school board is not like the township supervisors.

"The school board is an agent of the state. You have to administer the state laws and are responsible to the state government just as the ration and draft boards were responsible to the federal government.

"You directors can determine whether the schools in your district will be poor, average or good. Get acquainted with the classrooms and

Cpl. Salvatore Accardi Serving At Westover Base

Corporal Salvatore Accardi, son of Mr. Giuseppe Accardi of Bristol, is currently serving with the 1253rd Air Transport Squadron at Westover Air Force Base, Massachusetts, home base of the Atlantic Division of the Military Air Transport Service. Corporal Accardi is a graduate of the Bristol High School, and enlisted in the Air Force in 1947 shortly after graduation. After a short period of basic training, he was assigned as a student to the famous Radio General School at Scott Field, Illinois, where he graduated a skilled radio technician upon completion of the first phase of his Career Training Program.

In September of 1949, he was promoted to his present rank of Corporal, after having reported to Westover in June. His duties in the 1253rd Air Transport Squadron include the repair and maintenance of the complex, modern radio equipment carried aboard the huge four-engine Douglas Skymasters which this squadron flies on regular schedules across the Atlantic and to the polar regions. Constant on-the-job training, educational programs on the base administered by leading civilian educators, and complete technical facilities insure that the Corporal's skill and knowledge in this vitally important phase of aviation steadily increase.

Glee Club To Present 2nd Annual Show Tonight

The Bristol Male Glee Club will stage its second annual Minstrel Show this evening in the Bristol high school auditorium at eight o'clock. The show is being directed by Charles Quigley, assisted by Arthur Hornberger, and promises to surpass the performance given last year.

The program is divided into three acts, the first part being a minstrel circle with Charles McLaughlin as interlocutor, and the end men, Leslie Moss, Wendell Kehler, Arthur Hornberger and John Conyers. This act has four chorus numbers with vocal and instrumental solos.

The second part is a television scene with a girls' trio, a quartette and a monologue and solo by John Conyers, which promises to be most provoking.

The last number is an old time schoolhouse scene with glee club numbers, instrumental solos and a hilarious duet by Kermit Marsh and Leslie Shire.

The program was planned by the music committee of Charles Quigley, Arthur Hornberger and Charles McLaughlin, and the staging committee of George Kemmerer and John Conyers.

Miss Rita Clotti is the accompanist for the entire program.

LOG-CABIN HOME FAST RISING TODAY FOR BACHELOR VETERAN AT YARDLEY; 12 OTHER V. F. W. MEMBERS ERECTING HOUSE IN 8 HOURS

By Staff Reporter

YARDLEY, Nov. 26.—A World War II veteran, Elmer Doerr, who since the world holocaust had been hospitalized at different periods, will by dusk this evening have a home of his own. At 8:30 this morning the only thing that marked what today is fast becoming the Doerr domain was the concrete foundation.

The one-day project—that of building a house for one of their number—is the self-appointed task of members of Yardley-Lower Makefield Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. At 8:30 this morning a dozen "vets" were out in the biting wind (but glad of the bright sunshine) ready to start assembling the numbered, pre-cut North of Maine cedar logs. A photograph was taken as the men started their job, and photographic records were made every hour.

The Doerr house, which is during the hours of today fast becoming an attractive log dwelling, is being built at "Back Acres," the property of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Belleville, 3d, College avenue. It will measure 16x20 feet, will consist of

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Dr. F. T. Tsiang, speaking for China's Nationalist Government, asked the United Nations yesterday to refuse recognition to the Chinese Communists and to find the Soviet Union guilty of having violated the United Nations Charter and of having jeopardized the peace of Asia by giving aid to the Communists.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky said Russia would not be bound by any United Nations decision on China and would refuse to participate in the debate on Dr. Tsiang's charges. He said the Nationalist delegation were "fictitious representatives of a fictitious regime." The Soviet diplomat then ostentatiously ignored Dr. Tsiang's address.

Shortly after having rejected the Soviet Union's "peace" resolution calling for a Big Five treaty, the Political and Security Committee of the United Nations General Assembly approved a resolution, sponsored by the Western powers, urging all members to settle differences through international cooperation.

The program was planned by the music committee of Charles Quigley, Arthur Hornberger and Charles McLaughlin, and the staging committee of George Kemmerer and John Conyers.

Miss Rita Clotti is the accompanist for the entire program.

BUCK-MILLER WEDDING ATTRACTS AT CROYDON

Croydon Miss Is Wed To Bristolian In St. Thomas R. C. Church

AN EXPERIMENTATION

CROYDON, Nov. 26.—Immediately following eight o'clock mass in St. Thomas Aquinas R. C. Church, this morning, Miss Olga Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, Hillcrest avenue, became the bride of Mr. Earl B. Buck, son of Mrs. Gladys Buck, Bristol. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Rogers. Miss Stephanie Holton presided at the console, and Mrs. Joseph Barner was the soloist.

It is said that only one other county in this state is offering corn insurance to farmers.

Bucks county was selected as the second experimental county in Pennsylvania because of the unusual record of the County Production and Marketing Committee, which action took place at a meeting with John A. Smith, secretary of the committee, and Willis B. Bergoy, state director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

It is said that only one other county in this state is offering corn insurance to farmers.

The bride was attired in a gown of ice-blue satin, with an off shoulder effect of illusion, outlined with a Victorian flange tying in the front.

The bodice was pointed. The ankle-length skirt was hoop, and the sleeves were tight-fitting, ending in points at the hands. A strand of pearls was worn around the neck.

Buck satin slippers completed her costume. Her shoulder-length veil of ice blue illusion was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms.

The bride carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Following the ceremony the bride placed a bouquet at the foot of the Blessed Mother Statue while Mrs. Barner rendered the hymn "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling."

The bride chose her cousin, Miss Frances Smulligan, New Ringgold.

★ DAD CAN BUILD IT ★

WASH DAY WORK IS INFINITELY easier when the home-maker has a special cabinet where all necessary laundering supplies are always ready at hand.

By MARION CLYDE McCARRON

HAVE you a carpentry-minded husband in the family? If so, you might suggest—in a nice subtle way, of course—that wash day would be a whole lot easier for you if you had a special utility cabinet to hang on the wall near washing machine or tub that would hold all your washing essentials.

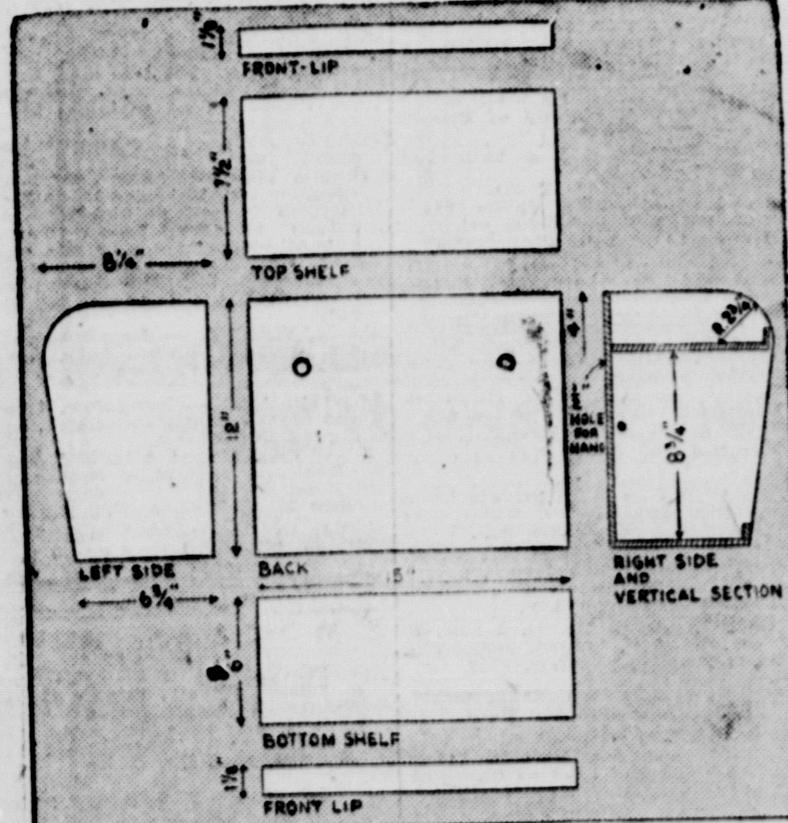

Just in case you have such a husband, here are directions, with working drawings, for a cabinet he can easily build you in an evening or two. Try leaving the newspaper, open at this page, around where he can't miss seeing it.

The cabinet shown is made of  $\frac{3}{4}$  in. birch plywood, but it could be made of almost any other hard wood, or even a soft wood such as pine. Finished with glossy white enamel, or any water-resistant paint, it's easily kept clean with an occasional quick going-over with a damp cloth.

Two shelves, each 15 in. long, with a lip or ledge running across the front of each, and with side and back pieces, make the simple cabinet, whose total height is 12 in. The depth of the top shelf is  $\frac{7}{8}$  in. and of the bottom, 6 in. Two hooks screw into each side for hanging objects, such as clothes pin bag, clothes line, etc., and screws attach the cabinet to the wall.

Designer Ernest Herrmann gives assurance that only the most elementary tools are needed in the construction work—a small saw, hammer, nails and sandpaper. He suggests that in order to make sure both sides are identical, saw them out roughly, then nail them together and sandpaper them simultaneously to exactly the same shape and smoothness.

Complete washday supplies for storing in the cabinet should include (with leeway for substitution) the washing product; dry starch; liquid starch; bowl for mixing starch; wooden spoon for stirring same; measuring cup, bleach, bluing, thermometer (so that water temperature can be accurately tested according to different types and color-fastness of fabrics) and cleanser and brush for clean-up work.

HERE, WITH THEIR DIMENSIONS, are all the pieces needed to make the cabinet, which can be constructed from any hard wood, or even soft pine.

strands are joined together by the school coat of arms. The inside is left open and so constructed that new announcements of activities at the school can be inserted each week.

The next notice to appear on the poster will be for the two plays given for the Drama Club on Friday evening, December 2. The plays selected are "Riders of the Sea" an Irish tragedy, by J. R. Synge, and Anton Chekov's comedy, "The Marriage Proposal." There is no charge for admission and Miss Florence Lukens Newbold, the school's headmistress, hopes to welcome many visitors for this event.

Those who failed to attend the concert by the joint Glee Clubs of St. Mary's Hall and the Pennington School, last Saturday evening, missed an opportunity for a few hours of delightful entertainment. The concert opened with the combined clubs singing "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" and "Water Boy" and closed with their rendering of "The Orchestra," an Austrian Folk Song arranged by William Schumann—a round imitating in turn, the fiddles, clarinets, horns, drums, trumpets and bassoons, and a "Prayer for Thanksgiving." There were also separate numbers by the two clubs. The concert was conducted in turn by Mrs. Kenneth Craven, Director of the St. Mary's Glee Club and Mr. William O. Rarick, Director of the Pennington Club. A dance and supper followed the concert.

One of the interesting recent visitors to the school was Miss Patricia Wilkinson, of the American Friends Service Committee, who has just returned from a trip abroad where she has been visiting some of the institutions being wholly or partly supported by this committee.

Bristol Takes On "Christmasy" Tone

Tells Directors To Let Public Know Their Needs

what good teaching is like today. Cautioning the school directors against special authority to which they are not entitled, Dr. Boehm warned them about overstepping ethics as individuals and board members.

"School board members have no authority as individuals. The minute the school board is over you become a citizen," said Dr. Boehm, who emphasized the importance of the rotation of the school board president after two years in office.

The amplification of music in the Farragut avenue area will start about the first or second week next month. A decorated Christmas tree has been placed in the 1600 block of Farragut avenue.

The stock of Christmas goods is believed never to have been larger or better than that which now fills stores of Bristol merchants. Warm clothing, dainty underthings for the women, jewelry, time-pieces, sheer hose, gloves, toys of all descriptions, photographic equipment, cosmetics, instructive games, train with trackage, etc.; household goods such as lamps, toasters, grilles, coffee makers, waffle irons, and so on would quickly fill in a Christmas shopping list.

Other merchants are ready with their tremendous supplies to provide greeting cards, the necessary fancy paper, seals and ribbon with which to package each holiday gift. There are radios and television sets as gifts for the entire family; not to mention electric sweepers, washers, pressure cookers to lighten the household tasks for mother.

Bristol residents can find practically everything they need for the coming season right here in town, and merchants in most instances have provided extra sales-people to make shopping easier.

STATE TO MAKE STUDY OF AIR POLLUTION

Statewide Survey To Be Made By Bureau of Industrial Hygiene

A SPECIAL DIVISION

HARRISBURG, Nov. 26 — (INS) — Pennsylvania has launched an intensive program to study the problem of polluted air.

Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux said a statewide study will be undertaken by the Bureau of Industrial Hygiene under the direction of Dr. Joseph Shulen.

A special division of the bureau has been established to concentrate on the problem.

The principal means of attack in the campaign will be a unique mobile field laboratory now being built for the bureau at the Mine Safety Appliances Co. of Pittsburgh.

This laboratory will be equipped with scientific instruments and devices to sample and analyze atmosphere suspected of contained harmful or annoying gases or dusts. It will be ready in about two months.

Because air pollution is relatively new in the science of public health, there are a limited number of experts in the field, Shulen said.

The new laboratory will be the only one of its kind in this country. Besides containing all the necessary equipment for taking air samples, the field laboratory will provide facilities for on-the-spot analytical studies of many industrial hazards.

Further tests also will be made at the bureau's permanent laboratories in Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Williamsport, Altoona and Erie.

Air pollution surveys will be made by the "air detectives" with the mobile laboratory at the request of industrial plant managers, civic groups and municipal or county officials.

One of the important instruments in the field laboratory will be a mine safety electrostatic dust and fume sampler.

Two sweet young things were discussing affairs of the heart. "So you've accepted 'Ralph'?" said one avidly. "I suppose he didn't happen to mention that he had previously proposed to me?" "Well, not exactly," replied the other blandly, "but he did confess that he'd done a lot of silly things before he met me."

ST. ANN'S TO MEET TACONY CLUB AT DISSTON FIELD

St. Ann's A. A., regular season champions of the Northeast Football Conference, will play the Tacony Boys Club tomorrow afternoon in the nightcap of a double-header at the Disston Ball Park, State road and Unruh street, Philadelphia. As the first game will get underway at 12:45 o'clock, it is estimated that the Tacony-St. Ann's tilt should start at 2:15 o'clock.

The "Saints" finished the season with eight wins and one defeat in the conference while Tacony ended in a deadlock with Chestnut Hill for third place. Tacony won six and lost three. Incidentally, the only defeat inflicted on the Purple and Gold was by the Tacony eleven.

So, tomorrow, the "Saints" will attempt to get into the league finals as well as avenge the 13-8 defeat given them by the Boys Club earlier in the season. Should the Bristol team enter the finals, it will be the first time, for in 1946 when it also won the regular season championship, it was eliminated in the semifinals.

The Tacony team is coached by "Bill" Bowe, former professional football player. He is assisted by Sam DiLucio and Frank Garaffa, both of whom are former football players.

Bowe's team is in fine condition for the tilt and only one player will be unable to see action. He is "Mike" DeSalvo, hard-hitting half-back. DeSalvo fractured his ankle against Chestnut Hill last week and is through for the season. However, for backfield men, Coach Bowe has Ray Clarke, Frank Katsis, Jim Swoe, Charlie Benincasa, Fred Benincasa, Rocco DiSangro, and Larry Monaco. It was the latter's pitching of forward passes that sent the Bristol team to defeat in their first meeting.

For ends, Tacony is well fortified with "Bill" Fleming, Armand Florilli, and "Mike" Cataline. Cataline and Fleming, both lanky youngsters, leaped high to snatch the forward pass touchdowns that beat the Purple and Gold. Tackles for Tacony are: Tom Jurkiewicz, Bill Miller, Jack Simpson, and Peter Veltz, while the guards are Tony Scornalenti, Joe DeMarco, Nick Nero, Arthur DiAngelo and Alfred Pizzo share the ball-passing position.

Coach "Pete" Borrice and his assistants, Joe Roe and "Socks" Seneca, held several practice drills this week. Joe Elmer handled the ball in the "T" formation during the sessions. Elmer did not play against Tacony in their first meeting and Henratty was also injured. So Coach Borrice was without an experienced quarterback, using John Antoni and "Bill" Marion in the position. For the game tomorrow, Borrice has Elmer, Henratty, and "Inky" Schneider. The latter recently completed a successful season at West Chester.

Ends for the contest will be: Stan Lelinski, Tim Coyne, Howard Keys, Tony Mangiaracina, "Moonie" Denny; tackles, Luke Wade, Al Iannucci, Bill Foltz, Bernie Kovacs, Bill Keys, Bill Geist; guards, Buck Profy, Buster Manchello, Fred Costantini, B. Calone; centers, Elwood Mount, Nick Lomma, and "Mickey" Iannucci. Backs are: Elmer, Antoni, Leo Fiorelli, John Florilli, Bill Marion, Joe Myernick, Jim Messinella, Ed Henratty, Wayne Schneider, Moe Caucci, Joe Singer, Joe Napol, and Bill Gillies.

In the first game, Dittman A. A. meets the Chestnut Hill Mohawks. The winner of this contest meets the winner of the St. Ann's-Tacony game for the championship, Sunday, December 4th.

BOWLING

FEDERAL LEAGUE

By defeating Blintcliff Bros. 3 to 1, Cattani's managed to hold first place in the League. There were two shut-outs by Leedom's and Johnson Bros., taking all four points from Auto Boys and Jackson's. Pacific Steel and Franklin split 2-2 while Neibauer Bros took to 3 out of 4 points from Marucci's.

Althouse Fuel and Louderback Trucking, rival teams, finally met and the game was witnessed by a large group of loyal, cheering supporters from both teams. Though Louderback's put up a bitter struggle, Althouse proved the better team by taking three points.
